Board Says No To Country Club

The Indian Ridge Development Corp. has been refused its request for an all-alcoholic license at the country club on Lovejoy rd.

The Board of Appeals issued an unanimous negative decision, stating that it would be legally necessary to also issue a common victuallers license to the club. This, in turn, would require that transients be served - the Club, it was noted, is a private Club. The decision stated that the original permit was for private use and that there should be no change from this usage, as the neighborhood is primarily residential. The Club, represented by Richard C. Simmers, suggested that, in fact, there would be no service to transients, even with the issuance of the licenses.

The Club has a seasonal license and may continue to operate under the original Board of Appeals decision, the report stated.

The Board also gave its consent to several appeals:

The P. W. Moody Co. may build a cement block addition at 7 Dale st. The Board found that, for a short distance, the addition would be closer to the lot line than required. There was no opposition to the request, and the Board stated that granting it would be in no way detrimental to the neighborhood.

Vahey Gulezian was given permission to build an addition to his home at 10 Arthur rd., consisting of a bedroom and bathroom. The Board found that denial would bring substantial hardship to the petitioner.

Augustine Sheehy received a permit to create an apartment in a barn attached to his home.

The property, located at 241 Lowell st., was formerly a farm. The Board found that building an apartment on the second floor of the barn is a "sensible and logical use" of the property.

C. Lincoln Giles petitioned for and received permission to renovate the building at 96 and 96 1/4 Main st., creating two apartments in addition to the two already existing. The decision stated that the property is deteriorating, and that creation of the new apartments makes it worthwhile to invest the sum needed to restore the property.

rd., received approval for the creation of a 2.25 acre lot, with only 20 foot frontage on Chandler rd. The lot is in the Residential Zone C, requiring one acre lots and 180 feet of frontage. Due to "special circumstances" establishing the new lot will not be detrimental to the neighborhood and that denial of the variance would create a hardship for the petitioner.

Found Leak In Sewer Main

Water Department crews were busily tearing a gaping hole in Main st. Tuesday, searching for a leak in the sewer pipe.

Supt. Donald Bassett said a small amount of seepage into the Rogers Brook excavation indicated a leak in the main. The trouble spot was found quickly - an item of good fortune, according to the superintendent. He explained that sometimes it is necessary to continue excavating along the main until the leak is discovered because there is insufficient pressure in the pipe to force the liquids out in great quantity, as happens in a water main.

A record hop has been planned for the opening event, beginning at 7:30. Members and non-members are welcome at the dance, for which new records have been purchased. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Let's have a quick look at a misconception many people have concerning vitamins. Because most of our vitamins are obtained from food, some people are disposed to look upon vitamins as a type of food. Food, however, is a material providing heat energy, measured in terms of calories, for vital bodily processes. Inasmuch as vitamins do not contain calories, they are not food.

They are, however, chemicals of drugs that are present in foods and a vitamin is still a vitamin whether you get it from a beefsteak or a bottle.

For the bottled variety of vitamin to supplement your daily diet, or for medical supplies of any nature, rely on SHAW-SHEEN PHARMACY. Our stock is complete, and you can expect personal attention to your needs at SHAW-SHEEN PHARMACY, Shawsheen Square. Free prescription delivery.

Impromptu Game Of Football

Now that Labor Day has come and gone and school has begun, everyone must admit that another summer is over.

Often people are reluctant to acknowledge the fact that the "festival festival" is over and fall and winter are facing us again. But the youngsters have no such hesitation, in fact they are apt to hurry the change if they can. In such a mood, no doubt, was instigated the Aug. 22 football game between the Rocky Hillers and the Suncresters, of the roads of the same names.

The Rocky Hill team prevailed over their opponents by a score of 32-12. Victorious were Tommy Bruner, Phillip Dawicki, Glenn Grubbs, Larry Hoffman and Robbie Grant. The Valiant opposition team was composed of Joey Freedman, Ricky Furey, John Dillon, Walter McDonald and Joey Medici.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

School Buses

During a discussion on school bus transportation at last week's school committee meeting, one thing was made certain: there is going to be a stop to freeloading on the buses.

School department regulations set forth that children attending elementary schools and who live more than one mile from the school door, will be carried to and from school by bus. Students enrolled in the high and junior high schools will be provided transportation if their homes are one and one-half miles from the schools.

School officials go to great lengths to insure that the distances they establish are accurate. An Andover police cruiser, with a calibrated speedometer, is used to determine what areas come within the transportation zones.

This is an important procedure. It establishes without any doubt the actual street, or walking distance between the schools and the homes. It's a lot different from someone taking a map and using a compass to draw a general mile, or mile and one-half distance from the schools.

It goes without saying, that there are instances where the measured distance may end at the driveway between two homes. Here is where the difficulty begins.

When two youngsters from neighboring homes leave for school in the morning, one may be entitled to bus transportation, the other not. One boards a bus, the other walks. The weather may be inclement.

Bus drivers, being kindly individuals, dislike such situations. Through the generosity of their hearts, they have been known to open the door to one and all.

Transportation by bus is expensive to the taxpayers. The per pupil cost in Andover is $26.40. The school system engages a fleet of eleven buses, plus a spare for emergencies. These vehicles travel anywhere from 66 to 78 miles a day in transporting children to and from school.

Joseph Connor, the bus coordinator, was on hand at last week's school board meeting to supply details of this year's operations. He provided information on the various routes, how far the buses travel and the number of pupils they transport. He also showed that the men who operate the school buses are not making a fortune.

Mr. Connor explained that it is necessary for a man to have another job from which he may take four hours a day to operate a school bus. His remuneration from the town for 40 weeks is approximately $41.00 a week. All things considered, it isn't easy to get qualified men to assume this employment.

A plan has been devised by which the school department will issue a bus pass to each youngster who is entitled to ride to and from school. This is one way through which confusion will be eliminated.

School committee members discussed the transportation problem at length with Supt. Erickson. At the end, they authorized him to enforce the distance regulations during the coming year.

It is to be hoped that parents of children on the borderlines of the bus pick-up zones will understand and cooperate.

Fall Inspection

Sometime during the remainder of September and early October, every car owner must have his automobile inspected.

This will be the first inspection period regulated by the present Registrar of Motor Vehicles, James R. Lawton, and it will be one of the stiffest ever.

Under orders issued by Registrar Lawton, all registry inspectors will be assigned to check on the inspection stations. Previously, this task was relegated to a certain group. These men only were able to visit the inspection stations in their areas infrequently.

In the next few weeks, registry men will be dropping in at the stations with clock-like regularity. Sometimes, two or three times a day.

Alerted to this fact, those inspection station operators who in the past may have given cars the once over lightly, will be inclined to more thoroughness.

This system is only one of the new registrar's innovations. But it is probably one of the most important. After all, the intent of the car inspection is to get jalopies off the road. The inspections can be no better than the men who make them.

AT THE LIBRARY

Coming Events SEPTEMBER

- 7 Library closed.
- 12 Treasure Chest Party, 3:30 p.m.
- 14 Saturday opening resumes.

Recommended

Chosen from among the many books published recently, the few listed below are interesting enough to be singled out for special mention: The Wine Is Bitter; the United States and Latin America, Milton Eisenhower; Coat Upon A Stick, Fruchter (a novel about an elderly New York Jew whose menial work in the synagogue and the rituals of the Jewish faith were all that gave meaning to his life); Aneurin Bevan, Foot (an admiring biography, covering the years, 1897-1945, about one of the most colorful, able, controversial figures in the British Labor party); The Essential Lippman, Lippman (a selection of his writings published over more than 50 years); Minority Report, Rice (may prove to be Elmer Rice's most important book); Dear Preceptor: the Life and Times of Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Wells (he "discovered" Emily Dickinson).

UN Day

Those planning programs about the United Nations this coming October, will find materials at the Memorial Hall Library which should prove useful.

From Oct. 21-25, the library will have available for loan two 16mm sound films: "Journey To Understanding", a 27 minute film about UNRWA schools and training centers and "Bozo's Adventures In Asia", a 28 minute color film in which the television clown makes new friends in a tour of six Asian countries where the children are being helped by the UNICEF programs. We recommend that you make early reservations for these films since their availability is limited to only a week. The Library, also, loans projection equipment. If you have not taken advantage of this service, you may wish to find out more about it.

Other audio-visual aids, available the year round, but particularly appropriate for this period, are film strips, tapes and recordings. Films strips available include, to name a few, "Learning About the United Nations" (color); "A Child Is Born In Asia"; "House of the Peoples"; "Safe Milk Saves Lives" (color); "Sharing Skills"; "Toward A Better World"; "We're All In The Same Boat" (color).

Two recordings "This is the UN" and "Voices Toward Peace" are directly about the United Nations. However, the library has numbers of folk song collections which would work into a program specifically arranged around a country or countries.

The League of Women Voters has produced tapes, three of which, may be found at the Library which will be useful for discussion programs. These are: "Financing the United Nations"; "Peacekeeping and the U.N."; "The U.N."; and the "Changing Scene".

Books and pamphlets are in good supply. It is possible to list but a few but these will serve to indicate the kind of material which can be found at the Memorial Hall.

Library (Books) The United Nations: Structure For Peace, Gross; Servant of Peace; A Selection of Speeches and Statements, Hammarstrand; The United Nations In The Congo; A Quest for Peace, Gordon (also on this same subject, but differently treated, To Katanga And Back, by Conor Cruise O'Brien); Arms and Arms Control, A Symposium, Lefever; United Nations: Hope For a Divided World, Munro; Arms Control; Issues For the Public, American Assembly; The United States and the United Nations, Johns Hopkins University; UN: The First Fifteen Years, Eichelberger; Block Politics in the United Nations, Hovet; How United Nations Decisions Are Made, Hadwen; (Pamphlets) U. N. and the Nonaligned Nations, Headline series no. 155; How To Plan and Conduct Model United Nations Meetings; United Nations Programs of Technical Assistance; Embassy Extraordinary; The U.S. Mission To The UN; From Dependence To Freedom: The United Nations Role in the Advance of Dependent Peoples Toward Self-government or Independence (Periodicals) United Nations Review; UNESCO Courier.

As in former years, the library will have materials and posters for free distribution. If you feel that the Memorial Hall Library can be of additional help in program planning, do not hesitate to call 475-0314.

At School

First days at school are important whether it is the first school experience for the child or the first days in a new grade. Some of the books listed below may prove helpful to parents as the opening of school approaches: Happy Journey, Preparing Your Child For School, Gudridge; The Child's World; His Social Perception, Estvan; Parents Ask, Ilg; Your Children At School; How They Adjust and Develop, Hubbard; How To Give Your Child A Good Start, Child Study Association (pamphlet); Kindergarten; Your Child's Big Step, Berson; Effective Home-School Relations, Hymes; The Fives and Sixes Go To School, Sheehy; You and Your Child's School, Public Affairs pamphlets no. 321; A Parent's Guide To Children's Reading, Larick; Helping Children Reach Their Potential, Jenkins; The Child and His Development, Lee; Child Growth and Development in the Elementary School Years; Millard.

vacated by the school when it moves into its new structure - has been approved by the Board of Appeals. Dr. George J. Colantino requested the variance, which brought substantial objections from residents of the neighborhood.

The Appeals Board found that the use planned by Dr. Colantino would not be detrimental to the surrounding property.

Objectors had, according to the decision, expressed the wish that a single-family use could be found for the building. Fears that creation of an apartment house would have some detrimental affect on the area were also expressed.

The Board found that, across the street, is an apartment house. And the decision noted that many single dwellings have been built since the apartment building was created.

Also noted was testimony by Headmaster William Harding that no reasonable offer, other than the $50,000 offered by Dr. Colantino, had been received. The School carries the building on its records at more than double this amount.

Representing the petitioner was Atty. James H. Eaton. Appearing for many people in the area were Atty. Joseph P. Bacigalupo and Atty. William H. Keller. Atty. Edward F. Cregg represented the School.

The Board, in its decision, noted that persons moving into the neighborhood since the School used the building had no guarantee that it always would be used as a school. Wings had been added, it was further noted, since the days many years ago when it was occupied as a single residence.

DON'T RUN OVER MY LITTLE GIRL!

"A few weeks ago I saw a little girl struck by a car as she tried to cross the street. I saw a father race toward her and hold her to him as she struggled in the agony of death. I saw the look of despair that came over his face. I could only offer a prayer that such a thing might never happen again.

"Today my daughter, who is six years old, started off to school. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is 'Scoot', watched her leave and whined his belief in the folly of education.

"Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, a girl with yellow curls, and about the boy across the aisle who makes faces; about the teacher who has eyes in the back of her head; about the trees in the school yard, and the big girl who does not believe in Santa Claus.

"We talked about a lot of things, some important, some unimportant.

"Now, as this is being written, she is sound asleep with her doll 'paddy' in her arms.

"When her doll gets broken, or her finger gets cut, or her head gets bumped I can fix them. But when she starts to cross the street, then Mr. & Mrs. Driver, she is in your hands.

"Much as I wish I could, it's not possible for me to be with her all the time. I have to work and pay for her home, her clothes and her education.

"So, Mr. & Mrs. Driver, please help me to look out for her. Please drive carefully. Please drive slowly past schools and at intersections. And please remember that sometimes children run from behind parked cars.

"Please don't run over my little girl."

Grubs Infest
Lawns In Fall

During the fall months many homeowners are shocked to find their prize lawns developing ugly brown patches of dead grass or torn apart by skunks and birds. These situations usually indicate an infestation of white grubs in the lawn.

White grubs are the immature form of several species of beetles, particularly Japanese and June beetles in this area. These grubs live in the soil beneath lawns and feed on grass roots. When they become numerous, the grass may be killed and actually can be rolled up like a carpet since there are no roots left to bond it to the soil. Grubs are a favorite food of many small animals and birds. Thus grubs in a lawn often attract skunks, moles and birds which tear up the grass in search of these delicious morsels of food.

Enters School Of
Dental Medicine

THOMAS F. NEDELKA

Thomas F. Nedelka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nedelka of Hampstead, N. H., former local residents, has entered the School of Dental Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa. He is a graduate of Andover High School and attended the University of New Hampshire, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Attendance
Climbing

Approximately 30,000 new students will enroll in Massachusetts public schools this September. According to the Massachusetts Department of Education, this increase, requiring 1200-1500 new teachers, marks the 18th consecutive year of expansion in Massachusetts school population.

"There appears to be no end in sight," said Commissioner of Education Owen B. Kiernan. "We have just begun to feel the impact of the high birth rate of the late '50's."

In addition to hiring new teachers, Massachusetts school systems have had to face the problem of replacing teachers who have retired and those who have gone to other states or who have entered business and industry seeking higher salary levels.

"Salaries throughout the state have improved this year," Kiernan reported. The latest statistics compiled by the Department of Education indicate a spread of $4,500 representing the legal minimum for those possessing a bachelor's degree, to $11,600 for an experienced teacher holding the doctorate.

According to records of the State Department of Education, greater holding power plus broadened curricular offerings have resulted in more graduates. Five years ago, 42,857 students were graduated from public and private secondary schools in Massachusetts. In 1963, 54,000 were graduated. The department predicted a sharp jump in 1964, when 68,000 will be graduated. The number will rise to 76,000 in 1965 and by 1973, ten years from now, the figure will rise dramatically to 86,000 or more than twice the 1958 total. Commissioner Kiernan cites these graduation statistics as "... conclusive proof of the need for rapid expansion of state colleges, the University of Massachusetts, the technological institutes, and the Commonwealth's system of Community or Junior Colleges."

Allyn Bradford's Contemporary Theology, an analysis of the development and problems of modern theology; Laboratory Botany, by members of the Biology Department of Phillips Academy; The History and Development of Communism, by John Richards; and Wayne Frederick's Maturing America, an analysis of political thought and experience in the United States since the first World War.

An entirely new idea is the series of Piano Lecture-Recitals offered by Miss Lily Siao, instructor in music at Abbot Academy. Miss Siao will combine the analysis and the playing of piano music from various periods, to help the listener become familiar with it.

Film devotees will be interested in the new Film Program, which will show seven films of the 1930's Wednesday evenings in January and February. Registrants are invited to suggest titles.
